

The latest Imran Khan movie follows the interweaving tales of three friends living in Delhi who, thanks to a case of mistaken identity, find themselves on the hitlist of one of the world's deadliest crime syndicates. Fast, furious and fabulously over the top with a thumping soundtrack to boot, if you only see one Bollywood movie this summer, make sure it's this one.

