

We were rather excited about this film, until we saw it. After the death of Joseph Crone's wife and child, we see him travel to Barcelona to see his dying father. His life soon becomes haunted by events that happen on 11/11/11. All the ingredients for a masterpiece but again it fails to measure up to other great conspiracy theory/ superstition films.

