

Act of Valor

This is a generic B-movie about an elite military team racing to stop a terrorist operation – or at least it would be, if it had been cast with actors. Instead, it stars actual Navy SEALs who may be able to swing heavy ordnance around, but cannot deliver a single line of dialogue convincingly. Nevertheless it's not a complete disaster – as a piece of filmed entertainment it will never be mistaken for Top Gun, but it is a great recruitment video.
