

From 25th July: Think you're the next Ansel Adams or Annie Leibovitz? Then you've got to sign up for Twofour54's upcoming evening photography workshop. The five-day course promises to take your photography skills to the next level, from understanding the theories of exposure and contrast to mastering the skills of composition and framing. It will also emphasise basic fundamentals and cater to other artistic and technical details and concepts. Twofour54's Tadreeb will run this course in two batches: the first will run 25th, 27th, 29th July, 2nd and 4th August, and the second will be on 26th, 28th July, 1st, 3rd and 5th August. Class timings will be 6.30-8.30pm. Spaces are limited so register now by visiting <http://tadreeb.twofour54.com/en/course/courses/introduction-to-photographic-techniques.html>
